

Investigator Role & Membership Info

What we are looking for is an investigator we can train. We need someone who doesn't have any major hobbies, schooling or commitments that would keep them from being engaged weekly. We are only focused on Washington & Oregon. So, yes, there is a little travel from time to time. P.O.R.T. is a non-profit organization that is solely funded by yearly membership fees. No member is paid for their time with P.O.R.T. We have a small gifted core of members currently. You already show the desire, passion & I hope the dedication we are seeking.

The functions of the investigator(s) we are looking for are (but not limited to):

- Historical research
- Interviewing clients, historians, witnesses, etc.
- Investigating
- Follow up (review of evidence & check-in's)
- Debunking

We are realistic in the approach that our members do have personal lives, families, and paying jobs that must come first. So, we don't expect someone to live, breath & eat this. However, we do need someone who truly WANTS to be a part of something amazing. There is no limit to where our team may go or what we may find. Already we have had some amazing experiences.

What comes with membership:

- Email address
- Personalized business card template (will explain further)
- Involvement in every case
- Use of gear during investigations
- Input towards the betterment of the team

P.O.R.T. strives to provide our clients with the same experience they would receive if they paid for a service. One of our most fundamental goals is our tenacious research discipline. We believe that the deeper we dig into the history of each case the better position we put ourselves in to validate claims & stories or to disprove & debunk activity. A well researched case is a one of our most prized tools in an investigation. Common sense and maturity play one of the biggest factors in a successful investigators time on a case. P.O.R.T. is not desperate to prove to the world the existence of the paranormal as we already know in our hearts and through our own personal experiences that they are real. Not every "orb", mist or shadow is a spirit. Being able to differentiate between the two is delicate and has to be based on explainable possibilities and ones gut instinct.

Things required of members:

- At least 21 yrs. of age
- $100 yearly membership
- Weekly involvement (i.e. emails or phone calls)

- Good people skills
- Good documentation skills
- Good communication skills
- Common sense & maturity
- Professionalism
- Adhere to PORT policies and Mission Statement
- Must live in Washington or Oregon

If you truly think you have what it takes based upon my above initial outline then take the time to fill our Member Application Form and return it to us so we can review it. We will then arrange to meet with you and move forward in the interview process. If you have any additional questions please feel free contact us.
